

OUR LITURGY

The prophet Isaiah gives voice to God's great promise that all people may participate in a covenant relationship with God. We see this wonderful possibility played out in the encounter between the Canaanite woman and Jesus. Her faith is undeniable, even in the face of initial rejection, and Jesus reaches out to her with healing for her daughter.

FROM THE DESK OF FR. MIKE

matter what their race, nationality, language, etc., etc.

We see two major themes at work in our readings for this week, one being the universality of the God and the Christian Message, and the other, you better not stand in the way of a mother when she is looking out for her child.

Now, you may say, universality? Doesn't Jesus tell the Canaanite woman that He has come for the lost sheep of Israel and not to give to dogs that which is holy and meant for the children. Well yes, He does say that, and He does appear to be driving her away, but it appears that Jesus has a reason for acting this way. Time and time again, we see in Mathew's Gospel an emphasis on the shortness of time in Jesus' Public Ministry. Mathew gives us the idea that Jesus during His Earthly Mission only wants to speak to the Lost Sheep of Israel. He does this, because He intends that the Apostles and the Church will go out to the rest of the world after His Ascension into Heaven and sending out of the Holy Spirit. So, we could think that's what is at work in this account, and Jesus is not ready to help this woman, for she in fact is a gatecrasher. But, Jesus also might have taken these actions to make a point to those gathered around Him. The point of what true faith in Him and The Father is really all about and how the prayers of those who are determined and have faith are indeed answered. For the woman's faith in Jesus' power and her love for her daughter were so strong, that she would not allow any restrictions to get in her way-not the crowd's, the Apostles, or even Jesus' own words. However, we get the impression from what Jesus says, that He approves of her actions and determination. Jesus uses her and her faith as an example for those gathered how they should approach God through Jesus Christ.

Notice (now) that Jesus does not let her nationality or her pagan beliefs stop Him from responding to her request. This theme is also seen in our reading from 3rd Isaiah (when God through the Prophet tells the Jewish People that He likewise accepts the offerings of the foreigners who are making them with true love and faith), and it is seen in Paul's Letter to the Romans. In today's reading of the letter, we see Paul praising the Gentile Christians who came to know God through Jesus for their faith and ability to be open to the Spirit calling them to something new. Something he wishes his Jewish brothers and sisters (who rejected Jesus) would do. Maybe, Paul hopes, that the example set by us the Church can lead the Jewish People to follow.

Remember, that God's gift of Faith is given to all freely and God listens to the prayers of all people no is! What is needed is for us to respond to this gift and put it to good use-for the more we use this gift the more and more it grows, and the more we can share it with others.

Speaking of faith filled and determined mothers, tomorrow (Monday) August 15th, we celebrate the great Solemnity of the Assumption of The Blessed Virgin Mary, Body and Soul into Heaven. Due to the fact that this Solemnity occurs on a Monday this year, it is not a Holy Day of Obligation. While it is not a day of obligation, we will still celebrate this day throughout the whole church. Here at St. Joseph's we will have our 7 AM & 9 AM Masses and we will have Mass at 7:30 PM. We will also pray the Rosary on the Rectory Lawn at 7 PM and then we will move from the Lawn to the Church for the 7:30 Mass-fellowship will follow in the Church Lobby after the 7:30 Mass.

Next weekend our new school principal Mrs. Leona Arpino will be introducing herself at all of the Masses. She will be sharing with us some of her plans for the school and its wonderful future. Let us all give her a warm welcome. We are sorry for the short notice on the cancellation of last week's Blood Drive, but the workers for NY Blood Services went out on strike and we did not think it was right for our parishioners to get stuck in the middle of their negotiations. Thanks, to all who were ready to give the great gift of life, and we will keep you informed on future drives. The Football Pool Tickets for this year are on sale either at the Rectory or after the weekend Masses. They are only $5 a ticket, and the more you purchase, the more chances you have to win. Take some with you and sell them at work, sell them to your friends, neighbors, even your relatives!

As of now, we seem to have made a profit of $42,000.00 from the Summer Family Festival. Again thank you to our sponsors, staff members, volunteers, and all who came out to make this a great success!

Let us close this week with the Opening Prayer from the Mass for the Assumption of The Blessed Mother: All-powerful and ever-living God, you raised the sinless Virgin Mary, mother of your Son, body and soul to the glory of Heaven. May we see Heaven as our final goal and come share her glory. We ask this through Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God forever and ever. Amen

SAY A PRAYER FOR OUR TROOPS

Please continue to remember them in your prayers.

Level Eight -Confirmation The students in this level will be informed on ways to put their faith into service and action. They will also discover that the gifts of the Holy Spirit will help them in their decision making process. The Sacrament of Confirmation will be celebrated in the Fall. Our students will have the experiences of a retreat They will have the opportunity to receive the Sacrament of Reconciliation prior to receiving the Sacrament of Confirmation. Parents and students will be interviewed by a members of the parish ministry.

Sacrament for Teens I This program is for those students who did not receive any formal religious instructions and have reached their teenage years. This is the first year of a 2 year program. They will prepare to receive Reconciliation and First Eucharist.

Sacrament for Teens II This program follows the completion of Sacrament for Teens I. It will prepare the students to receive the Sacrament of Confirmation.

Special Ed Our program strives to accommodate all children, regardless of their limitations and wherever

On a very serious note, except for one senator, ALL Nassau/Suffolk senators voted against bill S.3661/A.116 which would allow young girls to obtain high hormone drugs without parental knowledge and without physician oversight. Also, as an over-the-counter drug it has not been approved by the FDA. This drug is popularly known as "the morning after" pill. We were going to ask for letters/faxes/e-mails to the Governor encouraging him to veto this bill, but on August 4th, he did so.

Kathleen M. Gallagher, Director of pro-life activities for the NYS Catholic Conference, writing in Newsday on August 5th says "Pataki has taken a first step toward restoring sanity and control to an out-of-control abortion industry. Now the public must convince the rest of our elected officials that common sense is a majority

“A Man Who Became Pope” Aug. 15, Hallmark Channel

New York (CNS) — With memories of a frail and infirm Pope John Paul II still vivid, it takes some adjustment to accept a young Karol Wojtyla, here vigorously embodied by Polish actor Piotr Adamczyk. But the moving “A Man Who Became Pope,” airing on cable’s Hallmark Channel Monday, Aug. 15, 8 p.m.-midnight EDT, is, in fact, an account of the early days of the young playwright-actor who turned priest in Poland, first under the brutal heel of the Nazis, and after the war the communists. (It will be rerun Sunday, Aug. 21, 9 a.m.-1 p.m. EDT.)

This theatrical-quality production - Italian-made but filmed on location in Poland with a largely Polish cast — was based on Gian Franco Svidercoschi’s book “Stories of Karol: The Unknown Life of John Paul II.”

Pope Benedict XVI commended in June the film’s focus on Karol’s early heroism for “reviving in every right-minded person the duty to do what he or she can so that such inhuman barbarism never happens again.” He also discerned a “divine plan” in the ironic fact that a “Polish Pope ... (has been) succeeded by a citizen of that country, Germany, where the Nazi regime was the most vicious, attacking the nearby nations, Poland among them.” “A Man Who Became Pope” was screened for Pope John Paul II shortly before his death and the pontiff was said by Vatican spokesman Joaquin Navarro-Valls to have been “very impressed” with the project.

Occasional lapses into sentimentality notwithstanding, the narrative is well-told and absorbing. Even with its undoubted dramatic license and telescoping of events, you’ll readily succumb to the compelling story of a man whose steadfast courage and ideals — particularly his idea of love as the paramount virtue — never wavered even in the face of the evil and hysteria around him.

The film contains wartime violence, including firing-squad executions, and scenes of dead and wounded, partial prison nudity, some unsavory verbal imagery, some crude language and brutal beatings, and as such is best for older adolescents
